GREENSBORO TO BELTON, S. C.

Columbia Paper Foresees Such a Line.

The State Says That the Projected Interurban Development of the Piedmont Section Will Be the Most Important Industrial Development Since the Dotting of the Section With Cotton Mills—How the Projectors of This Great Scheme Have Gone About Their Work.

The whole Piedmont section is astir with the prospects of a great interurban line linking up its cities and towns. The Columbia State, which is always alive to the meaning of great industrial and financial moves, says that the proposed interurban development, if it is realized, will be the most important industrial development that has marked the history of the Piedmont section since the building of the cotton mills. It foresees a trunk line from Greensboro to Belton, S. C., with subsidiary lines shooting from this trunk and touching all the important towns and villages of the upcountry. Says the State:

"On the morning following the announcement last winter that the "Duke interests" had acquired the Anderson-Belton electric line, The State said that the event foreshadowed the most important industrial development that would mark the history of the Piedmont section since the building of the cotton mills. The announcement yesterday morning that the Greenville, Anderson & Spartanburg Interurban Railway company (the corporation formed upon the purchase of the Anderson-Belton line by the Dukes and their associates) has increased its capital to $2,000,000, had purchased the Greenville electric lighting plant and traction lines and would at once begin work in extending its road from Belton to Greenville marks another important step in the development and conveys assurance, if doubt has lingered in any mind, that the splendid plans are to be realized and speedily.

"The construction of the line from Belton to Greenville is of course the first expected increase of mileage. The country to be traversed is almost a continuous village, having a population more dense than most of the sections served by similar lines in the Northwest. From Greenville, early extension to Spartanburg may be looked for and thence in the direction of Charlotte. If the same interests, controlling lines in North Carolina, should build southward, a trunk line from Greensboro, N. C., to Belton or to some more southern point in South Carolina may be in operation in a comparatively short time. Lines shooting from this trunk and touching all of the important towns and villages of the up-country would be built in due course and that is, in fact, the prospect.

"The projectors of this traction development have gone about their task with care and with a broad view of the factors that will enter into its success. They proposed to construct a freight as well as passenger road. They purpose to make the use of their lines profitably to the people in order that they may be made profitable to themselves. With this object never out of sight they are enlisting local capital in the investment and they are studiously impressing the people of the territory to be served that their road will be a necessary and continuing benefit, not a ncessary evil. They expect to have the hearty and energetic cooperation of the Piedmont farmers, manufacturers and other business men and are at work from the beginning to furnish tangible proofs that this spirit is sincere. Hence, they will not be likely to force their road upon any community. They invite on the other hand, a manifestation of interest by communities in their plans.

"The State need not dwell on the immense commercial expansion to be brought about by the linking of 50 or more cities and villages having populations ranging from 1,000 to 20,000 in the richest part of South Carolina, if not of the South, by an electric railroad system. The question for Columbians is whether or not their city will be the southern treminus?"

BASEBALL DOPE.

Who Will Manage Greensboro Next Year—The North State League—Big League Games.

The question as to who will be the manager of the Patriots for next season is the one that the fans are most interested in now. There have been several names mentioned in connection with the position, but the owners have not given out the name of the man that they most favor.

Manager Kelly of the Anderson team, Manager McKevitt of Winston, and the man that managed Greensboro when two pennants were won; Tommy Stouch, of Greenville, this year's pennant winner; Rowe Hicks, present manager of the Greensboro club, and several others have their friends among the fans who are boosting for their favorites.

There is hardly any doubt but that if there is any organized baseball in this section Greensboro will be represented, and things point very favorably toward a North Carolina league, composed of strictly towns in this state, Charlotte, Greensboro. Winston-Salem, Salisbury-Spencer, Durham and Raleigh preferably. These towns with a smaller salary limit could be made into good "break-even" baseball towns and they are so situated that the schedule would not eat up all the earnings in railroad fares.

Charlotte led the league this season in attendance and despite the fact that Greensboro was never out of the cellar position this town ranked second in attendance, beating Greenville, the town that had the best team in the league and played winning ball for the entire season.

Another baseball theme that is being discussed by the fans now is the race between the big leagues and a party of fifteen or twenty ladies and gentlemen will go to Philadelphia to see the post-series games.

WHO WILL SUCCEED SKINNER?

This Question Much Discussed by Republicans Yesterday—Western Man Preferred.

The question as to who will be placed on the Republican ticket to succeed Harry Skinner as candidate for the associate Justiceship, Mr. Skinner having declined to run, was discussed by local Republicans yesterday. No one had the least idea as to who would be named by the state committee at its next meeting. Mr. Gilliam Grissom was called on for information, but he, too, was in the dark. He said that he had not heard a single name mentioned for the place, but in his opinion a western Republican would be named as all other men on the ticket were from the middle and eastern part of the state. Mr. Grissom stated that he did not know when Mr. Morehead would again call the committee together, but he thought it would be before long.

A. E. HOLTON TO SPEAK.

County Republicans To Hold First Public Speaking Friday Night.

The Republican County candidates will hold their first speaking of the campaign in the court house Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. All of the county candidates are expected to be present, but only a few of them will make a speech, the principal address to be by District Attorney A. E. Holton, of Winston-Salem. Ex-Judge W. P. Bynum will preside.

County Chairman Worth yesterday opened up headquarters in the Old Benbow building over the Public Service Company offices. The committee will probably arrange dates for other speaking at an early date.

Proximity Pythians.

At last night's meeting of Proximity Lodge, No. 158, Knights of Pythias, a number of rousing speeches were made following the regular business session. Among those who spoke were Messrs. G. H. Royster, of Greensboro Lodge, No. 80; U. S. Greer, D. H. Welsh and B. A. Simpson, of Proximity Lodge. Following the speechmaking the members repaired to the banquet hall where a watermelon slicing took place. The lodge is in a flourishing condition at present and the members are preparing to wage a vigorous campaign during the next few months.

Invitations Issued.

Invitations reading as follows have been issued:

"Mrs. Clara Thornton Peck requests the pleasure of your company at the marriage of her daughter, Saza Hendrick, to Mr. Robert Worth Wilson on the evening of Thursday, the fifteenth of September, at nine o'clock, 524 Douglas street, Greensboro, N. C."

Until The December Term of Court.

Neither Defense Nor Prosecution Ready For Trial Now—No Jury Trials At Adjourned Term—Prayer For Judgment In William-Craft Case Will Be Continued Also—The Surety Company For Foster Pays Big Sum Into Court

It has been decided that the celebrated case against N. Glenn Williams, continued from the June term of United States court until an adjourned term to begin next Monday, Sept. 12, will again be continued until the December term. The attorneys for both sides stated that they would not be ready for a trial next Monday and Judge Boyd has announced that he would allow the continuance. Therefore there will be no jury trial during the adjourned term and the members of the jury have been notified that they need not report to the court for duty.

The case is regarding the 635 barrels of whiskey seized by the government some time ago on account of the fact that the tax had not been paid by Williams. The amount of the tax is in the neighborhood of $30,000. Some time ago Williams furnished bond and the whiskey was turned over to him, but it was immediately seized on account of the fact that it was unstamped. The whiskey is now in the hands of the government.

The prayer for judgment in the case of Williams and Craft, who were convicted at the June term for conspiring to defraud the government by padding stamp sales, was continued until the adjourned term in order that the above case against Williams might be disposed of before sentence is pronounced. It is quite probable that the prayer for judgment in this case will also be continued until the December term.

A number of citizens from Stokes, Surry and Wilkes counties have forwarded to Judge Boyd a petition asking for leniency for Craft, the petitioners stating that in their opinion if Craft did enter a conspiracy he was dragged into it by others through his own ignorance and that he never wilfully and knowingly violated the law. This petition will be considered by Judge Boyd before pronouncing sentence.

The United States Fidelity and Guarantee Company, surety for D. C. Foster, yesterday paid into court the sum of $14,132. the amount of the judgment rendered against the company at the June term. This was the suit on distillers bond, Foster having violated the promise to not violate the law while engaged in the distilling business by attempting to sell liquor without stamping it.

Bankruptcy Case.

An order was issued yesterday afternoon by Judge Boyd adjudging John M. Rhodes, of Lincolnton, a bankrupt on his own petition. The liabilities are estimated at $93,000, mostly due as as endorser for the John Manufacturing Company, of Lincolnton, and the Rhodes Manufacturing Company, of King's Mountain. The assets are about $25,000. The matter was referred to W. S. O'B. Robinson, Jr., of Charlotte, referee in bankruptcy. Some days ago creditors of Rhodes filed a petition in bankruptcy, but the action of yesterday makes their petition unnecessary.

Pocketbook Taken.

Miss Maud Barksdale, of Danville, who came over on the excursion yesterday, went out to Lindley Park yesterday and accidentally left her pocketbook lying in a swing while she went to the spring for some water. When she returned the book was gone. In it was about $7 in cash and a check for $105, made payable to Miss Barksdale. The loss was reported to the police, but no trace of the missing property has been found.

Sermon To Men.

Rev. Shuford Peeler will preach a special sermon to men at the First Reformed church Sunday night Sept. 11, at 8 o'clock. The subject: "A Plea for the Laboring Man." There will be special music by a male quartet. Women as well as men most cordially invited.

Mr. Robert Vanstory left yesterday morning for Chapel Hill to enter the State University.

A BITULITHIC ROAD LIKELY

Between Greensboro And High Point.

Proposition to Build Bitulithic Road On Top of Macadam Bed Discussed by County Commissioners and Final Action Will Be Taken Next Monday—Can Be Built For $700 Per Mile—Other Road Matters.

The County Commissioners at the meeting yesterday afternoon discussed at length the proposition to build a bitulithic road from Greensboro to High Point, finally deferring action on the matter until an adjourned meeting to be held Monday, Sept. 12. At this time the board will either accept or reject the proposition.

For some time this matter has been under consideration, the Indian Refining Company having made a proposition to build a bitulithic road on top of the present macadam road. The idea is to take away the sweepings, or the finer portion of the macadam and build the new road on top of the macadam bed This would greatly lessen the cost, it being estimated that the road can be built for about $700 per mile.

The macadam road is fast wearing away and in a few more years will have to be repaired. It is thought that by putting down bitulithic now there will be a considerable saving in the cost, as the repair work would be quite expensive and would not last anything like as long as bitulithic. And automobiles cannot wear away bitulithic, while they tear up macadam at a rapid rate if there is much traffic on the road.

It is believed that the commissioners will decide to put down bitulithic. At the meeting Monday the commissioners will also decide on the matter of draining Horse Pen creek, which was left open Monday.

Yesterday's session of the board was taken up with road matters, there being a number of petitions for new roads. The petition filed some time ago for a road in Gilmer township, running from the McConnell road to the Holt's Chapel road, was granted and the road ordered opened.

The decision of the board to open a road in Morehead townships across the lands of J. F. McCracken, J. S. Cox and others, which was ordered opened some time ago, was confirmed. Dr. McCracken took exceptions and appealed from the decision of the board. Mr. Cox asked that a committee of freeholders be appointed to assess damages done to property owners by the opening of the road. This was left open until the road was opened.

The board authorized the grading of the road from Stokesdale to the Rockingham county line. A petition was filed asking for a road in Rock Creek from the Gibsonville road to Frieden's church. Petitions were filed asking for a road in Jefferson township from Young Mill road to the McConnell road near Mt. Hope church, a road in Fentress from near Dr. Coble's to the Climax road, a road in Gilmer township, a road in Fentress from C. E. Hockett's to the Climax and Pleasant Garden road, a road in the roads were ordered advertised.

The Millis bridge to be known as the Highway Bridge because it was built with the county's prize money has been completed and will be turned over to the county at the next meeting.

Automobile Horns and the Midnight Hour.

The good offices of The Telegram are invoked to get automobile drivers to desist from making the midnight air hideous with the blasts of their horns. A gentleman living on an eminently respectable street says that at midnight cars go up and down the street tooting their horns as if in an effort to make as much and as awful a noise as possible. The gentleman thinks that the right of people in the residential section to rest and quiet at night should be respected.

Open Headquarters Soon.

Democratic County Chairman Sherrill is preparing to open headquarters Sept. 15. From that time on he will wage a vigorous campaign throughout the entire county. Arrangements will be made to have the county candidates go into every township in the county and meet the people, with one or two pointed speeches at each meeting place.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

Some of the Work Done Throughout United States by Workers Last Year.

Capt. Paul, of the local corps of the Salvation Army, gives The Telegram a number of interesting statistics of work done by the army throughout the United States during the year 1909. The statistics are gotten up in pamphlet form and contain many surprising figures, some of which are given below:

In 1909 there were 886 corps and outposts, the company attendance being 904,902. There were 5,495 officers and bandsmen. The entire indoor attendance was practically 10,000,000 and in addition to the 223,179 indoor services there were 181,978 outdoor services. Over four million copies of the War Cry were published.

The Army had 79 hotels, accommodating 7,704; 172,299 meals were supplied and over two million were furnished beds. These were for working people. There were 107 industrial homes, accommodating 2,421. Fully as many were cared for as were accommodated in the hotels. The figures showing the work in the slums are enlightening, showing that 137,988 hours were spent in actual work in the slums. Over 20,000 meals were supplied. The Army supports 26 rescue homes and the work accomplished by these is almost beyond comprehension. Over 6,000 hours were spent among prisoners and over 18,000 were prayed for. Nearly two thousand were assisted on discharge and situations were found for 500.

The report of the Christmas dinners in 1908 are also given, showing that 388,500 dinners were sent out. The statistics show that thousands were helped in one way or another, some by being given employment, some by being given an opportunity to take a rest, or relief furnished. And on through the entire pamphlet one finds records of many deeds of kindness done by the corps of the army that will never be forgotten by those who were in trouble or need at the time.

The pamphlet also contains a statement of the work throughout the entire world. This shows there are now 9,024 corps and outposts, 21,186 officers and employees, 52,000 unpaid local officers, 20,000 bandsmen unpaid, slum posts 139, day schools 523, countries and colonies occupied 54, Gospel preached in 31 languages, 840 social institutions for the poor.

JOHN ROBINSON COMING.

Water-Proof Tents—Rain Will Not Spoil the Exhibitions.

A sudden downpour of rain or a long continued drizzle will have no effect on the patrons of the John Robinson Shows when it exhibits here. The reason of this will be apparent to everyone who sees the huge tents that will be erected here for the performance. They are all constructed of "mercerized" ducking. This marvelous invention for the waterproofing of material has been in use for rain coats, but up to this year has never been used for tents. People who have used "mercerized" cloth know how it sheds water, and it was the knowledge of this that caused the Robinson Shows to have all their tents made out of this material. It is quite a stride in advance of other shows, but is only in keeping with the progressiveness of the management of these shows. Beneath these tents spectators can sit in comfort and ease during the heaviest of rains and be as dry as if in the finest theatre in the country. This is only one of the many novelties that have been added to these shows this season.

It is respectfully suggested the children attend the afternoon exhibitions, where ample time is given to view the large menagerie, likewise avoiding the night crowds. Uniformed ushers will attend every want of the little folks and the care and attention paid to ladies and children is the first consideration of the management.

The date of John Robinson's coming is Sept. 12.

To Conduct S. S. Convention.

Rev. Shuford Peeler, secretary of the Guilford County Sunday School Association, will leave this morning for Stanley county, where he goes to assist in a county Sunday school convention. The Stanley County Association will meet for the first time and the workers will be organized. The convention will be in session two days.

T. P. A. To Play U. C. T.

Saturday afternoon at 4:30 at Cone park the Travelers' Protective Association will play the United Commercial Travelers. The game will be a seven inning affair and will no doubt be as interesting as the former games played by the two teams. The lineup has not yet been arranged.

RINGLING BROS. AND STATE FAIR

Compromise on The Date of Show.

Big Circus to Show In Capital City On Friday Instead of Thursday of Fair Week—Staley Identified by Reece—Woman Carried to Asylum After Staying In Jail Some Days—Only Four Appeals From the Second District.

Raleigh, Sept. 6.—The State Fair management has won a compromise in its fight with the Ringling Bros circus over the appearance of the circus here during fair week in that it has forced thte circus people to change its date here from Thursday (the biggest day of thte fair) to Friday. The change of circus dates is with Durham.

Former Deputy United States Marshal H. S. Reece, who was dangerously shot two years ago while in the government service raiding blockaders by a negro believed to be Jim Staley, was here today and identified Staley as the man who did the shooting. He is in Wake jail having been arrested in Davidson county last week.

The State hospital for the insane here has at last made room for Willie Medlin, the insane woman whom it has been necessary to confine in the county jail for several weeks because of the claim of the hospital management that there was no room in the enlarged hopsital. She was carried out to the hospital today thereby relieving one of the most pitiable cases that has developed hereabouts in a long while.

The Supreme court has only four appeals to hear this week in the calendar from the Second district so that the arguments for the week will certainly be concluded Wedneseday. The second district comprises Halifax, Northampton, Warren, Bertie and Hertford. The appeals are Williams vs. Manufacturing Co.; White vs. Tayloe; Pruden vs. White and Pruden vs. Tayloe.

The North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts is having the biggest opening in its history this week. The three colleges for women here will have their openings next week. Meredith College opens September 14 and St. Mary's and Peace Institute on September 15. Each of these colleges has by odds the best prospects in its history for openings right up to the limit of capacity.

PICNIC AT BATTLE GROUND.

Danville Sunday School Spent Most Delightful Day on Historic Spot.

The Mt. Vernon Methodist Sunday school, of Danville, Va., picnicked at Guilford Battle Ground yesterday and in addition to the members of the school a large number of Danville citizens came over on the excursion train and spent the day on the historic battlefield.

The West Market Street Methodist Sunday school sent out a committee that served ice cold lemonade and otherwise entertained the visitors. When the hour for departure came the visitors were loath to leave the scene where such a pleasant day had been spent. They were loud in their praise of the hospitality of their sister school here and also of the Guilford Battle Ground. Many declared that the spot was the most charming and suitable for a picnic they had ever seen.

The Battle Ground is constantly growing in popularity as a place for picnickers and it has been visited this summer by a larger number of Sunday schools and other organizations than ever before.

Colored Evangelist Will Conduct Revival.

The Telegram is asked to state that Rev. Chauncey I. Mithrow, A. M., pastor of a Methodist church in Norfolk, will conduct a revival at the High Street Methodist church, colored. Rev. Mithrow, who has very flattering testimonials, formerly taught in Bennett College.

Revolution Masons.

A regular communication of Revolution Lodge, No. 552, A. F. & A. M. will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the lodge room in the Revolution school building. There will be important work and all members are urged to be present. Visiting Masons are cordially invited.

DIABETES

From late figures the hope of recovery under the new emollient treatment seems to be about as follows:

In people of sivty and over results are quite uniform, probably nine-tenths recovering. While at fifty and over a large majority of all cases yield to the treatment, below fifty and approaching forty the disease gets more stubborn, and between thirty and forty the percentage is not high—probably not much over half yielding.

Under thirty the percentage is less and in children recoveries have been very few and most of those were obtained with the aid of skilled physicians forcing nutrition, with alkaline treatment to prevent formation of acetones.

The new emollient treatment is known as Fulton's Diabetic Compound. It can be had in Greensboro at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

We desire every patient to write us who is not noting the usual improvement by the third week. Always state age. Literature mailed free. Jno . J. Fulton Co., 645 Battery street, San Francisco, Cal.. We invite correspondence with physicians who have obstinate cases.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is donig wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality; causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

AMUSEMENTS

The magnetic musical sensation "The Soul Kiss," which is the underlined attraction announced by the management of the Grand, for tonight, has demonstrated by past performances, in the different cities it has been presented, that it is the strongest attraction that the box office of the theatre has ever known, and there is every indication that when it is presented in this city it will prove to be a record-breaking performance. It returns to the road this season, overflowing with a budget of new novelties and songs, rendered with appropriate costume changes, and in a manner characteristic of the artiste. The company of sixty people includes Dollie Barlowe, a danseuse of grace and skill, who has created a great sensation by her winsomeness throughout Europe. During last season, she was the most talked of dancer in England, and appeared at the Crystal Palace, in London.

"The Beauty Spot."

One of the funniest and best numbers in "The Beauty Spot," the DeKoven and Herbert musical comedy in which Jefferson DeAngelis will appear as the star at the Grand, at an early date is the song "She Sells Sea-Shells." This particular juxtaposition of sibilants has always been a lingiustic tangle. It was once proposed as a test of a man's sobriety and it was so hard for a perfectly sober man to say that it was certain that a tongue thick with liquor must balk at it.

But every night Mr. DeAngelis gets away with it without a break but the "beauty" girls who are with him and who have to join in the chorus are getting so that they can hardly talk without a lisp. Here is the chorus. If you think it's easy, just try to read it fast:

"She sells sea-shells on the sea-shore,
The shells she sells are sea-shells I'm sure,
For if she sells sea-shells on the sea-shore,
Then I'm sure she sells sea-shore shells."

Dustin Farnum in "Cameo Kirby."

Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson don't depend for their entire playwrighting fame on "The Man From Home," the big New York success which has just closed a record breaking season of 70 weeks at the Astor Theatre, though in that notable collaboration they attained at one bound the highest round of the ladder of box-office success. They have followed up this wholesome comedy with another, of a somewhat different character but every bit as "American." The newest offering from this happily mated firm of authors is called "Cameo Kirby" and Liebler & Company who produced "The Man From Home" appear as managers of the latter production as well.

Dustin Farnum is the star of "Cameo Kirby" and plays the title part. In this play of the new Orleans section of the country in and around the period of 1832, Messrs. Tarkington and Wilson have fitted Mr. Farnum with the best vehicle he has had since he thrilled the entire country in "The Virginian." At the Grand Sept. 14.

"Beulah."

Admirers of Augusta J. Evans will be interested in the announcement that the gifted author is again to be represented in the dramatic literature of the season. Last year her "St. Elmo" was presented and scored one of the biggest successes of the year. This season it is "Beulah," the work which first centred attention on the writer and from the appearance of which her career as a successful novelist is dated. From the time "Beulah" was first brought to the attention of the reading public, Miss Evans took her place as one of the most widely read novelists of America.

CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scale, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

DRUGGISTS ASKED TO ACT.

Baltimoreans May Discuss Soothing Syrup Question This Week.

Baltimore Sun.

It is probable that the placing of soothing syrups on the prohibited list by Baltimore druggists will be discussed when the Retal Druggists Association of Baltimore meets next Wednesday at Sonnenberg's Hall, Fremont and Baltimore streets.

Notices to the 329 or more druggists in Baltimore, regardless of whether they are members of the association have been sent out asking each druggist to attend the meeting. Besides the soothing syrup question the druggists will also consider the new Pure Food law, and it is hoped that whatever action is decided upon will receive the undivided support of the local pharmacists.

Mr. John B. Thomas, of the firm of Thomas &Thompson, and the president of the association, has returned from the north, where he spent the major portion of the summer. Mr. Thomas said yesterday that he had followed the discussion concerning soothing syrups in Baltimore through the Sun and had personally favored the plan of abolishing the sale of the drugs.

He said that the question of abolition would no doubt arise at the meeting, and while he would not phophesy as to the action it would take, he said:

"Personally I believe the movement is a good one. We have had practically no call for soothing syrups in our store this year, but at all events we will not buy any more. We would be perfectly willing to stop its sale if such action is according to the best judgment of physicians who will say that the soothing syrups cause infantile paralysis and back up the statements.

"The soothing part of the syrup is of course a drug, usually morphia. It must be that to quiet the pain or the cries of the infant, and that is no doubt harmful.

"I should imagine that the better part of the soothing syrup trade is among the poorer people, who do not understand the harm which its use entails and it would be a good plan if our drug gists would all agree to abolish the sale of them.

"This movement is not confined to Baltimore by any means, however, it is all over the country. I was recently in conversation with a prominent druggist of St. Louis, who told me that he had gathered up all the soothing syrups in his store, and piling the bottles in a prominent window placed a placard on the pile saying, 'These for the ash barrel.' He wanted to tell the public that he would not sell any more of the stuff.

"Without the co-operation of the entire community of druggists, however, the movement if it be started, would fail. It is for the association to decide. I am expressing only my individual views."

Mrs. Jacob Wilmert, Lincoln, Ill., found her way back to perfect health. She writes: "I suffered with kidney trouble and backache and my appetite was very poor at times. A few week's ago I got Foley's Kidney Pills and gave them a fair trial. They gave me great relief, so continued till now I am again in perfect health." Holton Drug Co.

Fond Mother—"Poor little Willie has a pain in his stomach." Christian Scientist—"Ah, that pain is purely imaginary." Fond Mother—"I suppose you want me to believe the green apples he ate were imaginary, too."

The Story of a Rose

By MARY A. BOWERS

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

If all the old books in the world could be opened at once and the articles found between their pages displayed to the world they would fill a museum. These inclosures would be made up of faded flowers, memoranda, bits of lace and occasionally a letter. And among those letters there would be found some that would wreck the peace of families. A librarian once told me that every book returned to the library was shaken and almost always something would drop out. How many of these articles could tell a love story?

I am—or was—a white rosebud. When I was born I don't remember any better than people remember when they were born. I was very young when I was plucked, and that is the earliest event in my life that I recall. It was a June morning, June 15 (I'll tell later why I know this), and most of the dewdrops on me had been absorbed by the air. A young man came into the garden. He was barely nineteen and as handsome as a picture. He wore no hat, and the sunshine poured in and out of his tumbled hair. He looked about among us flowers as if searching for one he especially wanted. Then his eyes lit on me. I was the only bud just opened. He plucked me and took me into the house. After breakfast he put me in his buttonhole and, calling his dog, set out down the road. Presently he stopped before a house, on the piazza of which stood a girl. She, too, was very young—only seventeen, I fancy—and was dressed in pure white, not a bit of color about her. The young man turned in at the gate and joined her.

"I have come to say goodby," he said. "I am going away this afternoon to take the position that has been offered to me."

I saw the girl change countenance. I don't think he noticed it, but you know a man has not the delicate perceptive faculties of a white rose. They sat down together on wicker chairs and chatted for a long while. It seemed to me that he would have liked to tell her that he loved her, but some reason interposed, probably the fact that he was just starting in life and both were very young. At any rate, he rose to go without having done so. But he did the next best thing. He offered me to her and told her that if she would keep me till he came again he would have a secret to tell her.

She tried to look indifferent when he called his dog and started back home. But as soon as he was well down the road she ran into the house, taking me with her, and up to her room, where she wept a long while. Then she noticed me on her bureau, where she had placed me, and put me in water. There I remained till she went to bed. Just before doing so she placed me in a book of poems.

In the morning as soon as she awoke she opened the book and kissed me. Then, lest I should fall from between the leaves, she pinned my stem to the leaf. Under me she wrote June 15.

This book of poems was to be my permanent home, a very fit dwelling place for a white rose. The girl read the book very often and always caressed me when she did so. A year passed, and when the next summer had gone she wrote under me on the margin of the page:

"Will he never come?"

Years passed—I don't know how many, perhaps five or six—and he did not come. Then the girl went away, leaving me with her other favorites. More years passed. One day a man came into the room where I was and packed all the books, the one I was in among the number, and they were carted away. When the box containing me was opened a man took out my book dwelling and placed it on a shelf of a shop with other books.

I must have been by this time eight or ten years old. At any rate, my leaves were yellow and brittle, though my stem was still firm. One day a man came into the bookshop and asked if they had a certain book of poems. I was taken down and handed to him. He opened the cover, and when he saw the name written on the flyleaf I felt his hand tremble. Then he turned over the leaves till he came to the page to which I had been pinned. His fingers clutched the book in a sort of spasm.

"How much?" he asked the shopkeeper.

"Oh, you can have that for 10 cents."

The purchaser tossed a bill on the counter and, forgetting his change, hurried away. The shopman called after him, but he did not hear.

I didn't recognize the purchaser till he saw me in the shop and what was written under me. Then I knew him, despite a full beard he wore. He took the book and me to his room in bachelor quarters, and there I remained a week. Then one day he wrapped us carefully in paper and took us to another city on a train. We there entered a house, and in a few moments a lady entered. The man looked at her and said:

"I have come at last."

The lady looked at him and uttered a little cry. He handed the book to her, open at the page to which I was pinned, and my dear mistress and I looked each other in the face again.

I now live with the two, who are married, and am considered the most precious thing in the house.

The Republican campaign text-book shows that there are 14,397 negroes holding positions under the Federal government.—News Item.

What's the matter with 'em. Are they trying to inject the race issue into the political problem? Are they shouting "nigger"?

It was a rebuke to Roosevelt that President Taft administered at St. Paul. He argued for getting down to details—to specific evils and specific remedies. Mr. Roosevelt is great on shelling the woods. But he manages to sidestep anything like getting down to brass tacks.

The Republicans are planning, so it is stated on good authority, to thoroughly organize every county in the State regardless of expense. The unprejudiced voter should beware of a party which does things regardless of expense. The Democratic party has to regard expense and we believe that that very fact is a great argument in its favor.

Mayor Gaynor, of New York, walked six miles Monday. His neighbors say also that he will be fully recovered in a few weeks from the wound inflicted by James J. Gallagher. A man who can stand a six mile steady walk in weather like this and wind it up seemingly fresh, will not have to wait weeks to be fully recovered.

And now the Republicans are wondering why Mr. Taft didn't hunt up a Republican to make chief of the Bureau of Mines. Really does look as if the President has a great admiration for North Carolina Democrats. And who can blame him when there are such able and brainy men as Henry G. Connor and Joseph A. Holmes for him to pick and choose from?

The following is sent to The Telegram already prepared, but we print it just as it is sent in for there is nothing in it to which we cannot cheerfully subscribe:

The Salvation Army anticipates holding its annual Harvest Festival during late September. To one and all of us this should appeal, as God has certainly been good to us. We ought to remember that to Him we owe our very being and all the good things that He has bestowed upon us during the past year.

We think that no religious organization which today exists carries on its work under more trying circumstances than does the little body of Salvationists.

When we say "little" we ought to correct this, as The Salvation Army now operates in fifty-six countries and preaches the Gospel in thirty-one languages.

We say to every citizen that he ought to, during this festival, give as God has blessed him, and he may rest assured that a great amount of good will be done with the proceeds of the effort.

We again recommend the efforts of the captain and his faithful band to our every reader.

Prof. William James, the famous Harvard psychologist, died on August 26. Before shuffling off the coil he announced that when he got to the other world he would do his level best to communicate with his friends in this world. Dr. Frederick A. Wiggin, a spiritualist, of Brookline, Mass., now claims that he has been in communication with Prof. James. He was away at the time of Prof. James' death and did not hear of it until Sunday was a week ago, but as soon as he heard, he immediately set about getting in touch with the departed professor. He declares that after an hour's summoning of his "control" the spirit manifested itself. To quote further from him:

My control came to me after a time and I experienced a strong intimation of a presence in the room. My conscious mind could not translate from the subconscious mind the identity of the presence.

The subconscious had apprehended the message of the presence from my control, but there was a break in communication between the subconscious mind and the conscious. Yet, I feel positive that the presence that remained there and that I have felt every night since is that of Professor James.

As the spirit of Professor James remains near my control the control will get stronger, and I feel that within a week or so the messages will become more and more plain until I will receive messages which I feel sure will bear out Professor James' wish to prove the will to communicate. I cannot make these communications known until the control is strong, but then I believe they will go far toward establishing the fact even in the minds of some of the materialists.

What consummate rot! The Doctor is either the victim of a very active imagination or he is a rank impostor as undoubtedly are many of those styling themselves spiritualists. Old Shakespeare had some ideas about the dead that Dr. Wiggin, if he is honest with himself, could profit from. He spoke of the other world as that undiscovered bourne from which no traveler returns and no doubt the only reason he did not say "communicates" as well as "returns" was that he didn't foresee the existence of charlatans claiming to be able to bring the dead into touch with the living.

THE WORLD LOVES A FIGHTER.

The world loves a good fighter in whatever field he fights, and to this fact, perhaps, more than any other, is due the respect in which "Uncle Joe" Cannon is held. Beset by many foes, he keeps his face toward the enemy. But we have in mind another fighter—General Booth, the head of The Salvation Army. He calls himself a militant Christian, and though he is eighty-two years of age and has been most of his life engaged in a war against vice and sin, he still fights on undaunted and leads an Army of earnest men and women, who fight the good fight in every crowded quarter of the world, remarks the Washington D. C., Herald.

At eighty-two most men, having accomplished things, are ready to quit and take a well-earned rest, but not so with General Booth. He is planning for many years of active work yet. In an interview, the other day, he said:

"They tell me I am getting old. That may be so, but, really, I feel as though I have lots of real good fighting blood in me yet. I have planned all my movements for five years ahead, and I feel confident the program will be carried out to the very letter. If God takes me while I am addressing a meeting of when in conference with my officers, I am quite ready to go, but there is no reason why I should retire from active service, and I don't propose to do so while I am able to draw the breath of life!"

Is not that statement from the sturdy old Christian fighter inspiring? Does it not set an example that all of us might well struggle to emulate—to do our work and to keep on fighting to the last ditch; to work always for others and without thought of self? No military general who ever fought a winning campaign is more worthy of monument to his fighting qualities than the venerable and much-beloved, sturdy old fighter, General Booth!

Surprises In Chinese.

"Some people," said an American consul to China, "live as long as twenty years in China and never learn more than a dozen Chinese expressions. But not so my little girl. She used to meet me each evening with some new Chinese expression which she had learned during the day. Now, the Chinese language, like the Japanese, is full of honorifics, and I fondly imagined one evening, when my little girl greeted me with some entirely new expressions, that she was saying something like this: 'Here comes the honorable personage, my father.'

"To verify my guess I asked a little Chinese boy to translate. At first he was rather backward, but I urged him until he finally said:

"'Your excellency, your daughter says, "Here comes that old wooden headed bottle."' Yes, there are some surprises in Chinese."

Not Interrupting at All.

At the piano Mrs. Eaton was guiding Edith and Edward and Jack through the intricacies of an old English melody when she became aware that the twins were adding their voices from an indiscreet distance and stopped playing.

"Children," she exclaimed, "you are not allowed to join in the chorus with Edith and Edward!"

"We weren't," the twins protested, in slightly resentful tones. "We were singing something quite different."—Youth's Companion.

Shakespeare Altered.

A portable theater had been pitched in an out of the way spot where the prospective theatrical patrons were unsophisticated in matters dramatic. The players possessed the costumes for "Hamlet," and Shakespeare's tragedy was selected for representation. It then occurred to the proprietors of the show that the name might not attract, so they altered the title to "How the Stepfather Was Paid Out!"—London Mail.

He Pleased Her.

"She asked me how old I thought she was."

"What did you say?"

"Well, I perjured myself like a gentleman."—Detroit Free Press.

WALKER BOUND OVER TO COURT

Placed Under Bond of Two Hundred Dollars, in Default of Which He Went To Jail—Wanted to Rejoin Circus This Fall—Other Cases Before Judge Eure Yesterday.

The principal case that claimed the attention of His Honor, Judge Eure, in Municipal court yesterday morning was that of Charlie Walker, of ebon hue, charged with the larceny of a suit of clothes from the residence of H. W. Winthrop, East Washington street. After hearing the evidence the defendant was held for the criminal term of Guilford Superior Court, which begins Monday week, and in default of a bond in the sum of two hundred dollars Charles now languishes behind the bars of the county jail.

Walker made his advent into Greensboro two years ago, when he and another negro came here with the John Robinson shows and while the circus was holding forth Charles and his companion entered a residence here and stole a number of articles. The officers arrested them and Charles' period of "involuntary servitude" upon the roads of Guilford county was fixed by the judge at two years. He finished this sentence last Saturday a week ago. Since that time he has accumulated something like half a dozen suits of good clothing, which he says came from Greensboro, Charlotte and Raleigh. He did not place a high value upon the clothing he had obtained, but good trousers were sold for ten cents and splendid suits were pawned for by him for a quarter of a dollar. It had been Charles' fond hope to rejoin the Robinsion circus when it comes here at an early date, but at that time he will be in jail and it is more likely that he will "rejoin" Captain Tyson's famous troupe of road builders, with which Charles has been a star performer for the last two years.

Foster Benton, a ragged negro of even a darker shade than Walker, was given a hearing on the charge of embezzling $1.10 in money, which had been furnished him by a couple of white men for the purpose of getting a pint of the fluid which both cheers and inebriates. The wtinesses said that Foster took the money but after a long and thirsty wait they returned home without getting that for which they had waited. Foster has been eluding the officers for some time but Monday afternoon he was run in by the vigilant "cops." Foster is boarding at Hotel Apple, corner Gaston and Greene streets, pending the opening of the next term of Guilford superior court, in default of a bond for $50.

F. D. Hackney was charged with careless and reckless driving, and he was allowed to go upon his agreeing to pay the costs of repairing a bicycle struck by his team. The occurrence was at the intersection of West Washington and South Elm streets yesterday morning, when the defendant in turning the corner drove against a boy riding a wheel, throwing the boy off, breaking the wheel and skinning up the shins of the youngster considerably.

The Commission Plan.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon at which time the draft of the proposed city charter, looking to the establishment of the commission form of government, was submitted by the committee. It was unanimously adopted and President Justice was instructed to call a meeting of the members of the Chamber of Commerce and of the citizens generally at which the charter can be discussed by the citizens of the city and such changes as are thought to be advantageous made. If the proposed charter meets with the approval of the mass meeting then the draft will be printed in pamphlet form and distributed among the citizens. It is likely that Mr. Justice will call the meeting about Sept. 16.

At Asheboro Street Baptist Church.

At Asheboro Street Baptist church last night Rev. W. H. Eller made a most interesting address on Missions. A good sized congregation was present and close attention was given the speaker. Tonight Mr. J. L. Vipperman, of Spencer, will speak. Thursday night Mr. Henry Sheets, of Lexington, will speak. The Bible conference is proving most interesting.

Buena Vista Odd Fellows.

An enthusiastic meeting of Buena Vista Lodge, No. 21, I. O. O. F. was held last night at which time the second degree was conferred on Mr. M. B. Sutton. There was a large attendance and the members are preparing to wage a strenuous campaign this fall for new members.

MISS WARE WEDS MR. KRIECHBAUM

Beautiful Home Wedding At Home of Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Ware Last Evening — Reception Followed Marriage Ceremony—Bride and Groom Off For Wedding Trip.

At eight o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Ware, on Summit avenue, Miss Clara Ernestine Ware became the bride of Mr. Clarence Arthur Kriechbaum, of Terra Alta, W. Va. While the ceremony was very beautiful only a few friends and relatives were invited to witness the nuptials, the bride preferring a home wedding rather than a church wedding.

Before the ceremony Mrs. E. K. McLarty sang Schubert's "Serenade" and Miss Eva Blair rendered the "Spring Song." The bridal party entered to the notes of Wagner's wedding march played by Miss Annie Preyer.

The parlor, where the ceremony was performed that united the two young hearts, was beautifully decorated in green and white, ferns, palms, and white asters being used in profusion and an altar had been erected in one corner of the room at which the bride and groom met, the vows being made to the father of the bride, Rev. W. R. Ware, the presiding elder of the Greensboro district of the M. E. church. The marriage ceremony, adopted at the last general conference this spring, was used and the ceremony was particularly beautiful and impressive.

The ushers were the first to enter, Mr. Henry Ware, brother of the bride, and Mr. Will Preyer. Next came Mr. R. E. Ware. Then Mr. Asa Needham, of Baltimore, the best man, Mr. Kriechbaum, the groom, entering with him. Miss Allie Brown Ware, a sister of the bride, and the maid of honor, entered next, looking very beautiful in pink and carrying a large bouquet of pink asters. The bride, Miss Clara Ernestine Ware, entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. W. R. Ware, of High Point, Miss Ware looked bewitching and easily captured all hearts by her beauty and charming manner. She was gowned in a creation of white crepe de chine trimmed with real lace and pearls with a veil caught with swansonia and carried a shower bouquet of roses and swansonia.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was given in honor of the bridal party, two hundred friends calling during the evening between the hours o 8:30 and 11. The guests were met at the front door by Mr. Henry Ware and Miss Belle Doggett ,of Clarksville, Va., and at the parlor door Mr. Will Preyer and Miss Maie Dorsett received. The bridal party was in the receiving line in the parlor.

In the dining room, which was beautifully decorated in white and pink asters, a course of ices, mints and almonds was served, in which the color scheme was carried out. In one corner of the porch a large punch bowl filled with delicious fruit punch was presided over by Misses Annie Lea and Katherine Matthews.

Miss Ware is one of the most popular and accomplished young ladies in the city, and during the two years that she has lived here has made hosts of friends who will regret that the young people have decided to make their future home in Terra Alta, W. Va., and that Greensboro is about to lose one of her most deservedly popular young women.

Mr. Kriechbaum is a native Pennsylvanian, but has interests in West Virginia where he is a civil engineer and contractor. The young people met in Baltimore several months ago where Miss Ware had gone to take her young brother to a hospital.

They left last night on train number 38 for a bridal trip through northern cities.

what would it be a sign of?" Wagg—"It would be a sign that you would have to buy another if it belonged to me."

Popular Excursion to Richmond, Va., and Return Via Southern Railway Wednesday, Sept. 14, 1910.

Southern Railway announces the last excursion of the season to Richmond and return. This special train will leave Charlotte at 8 p. m. and Greensboro at 11:40 p. m. Sept. 14. Due at Richmond 6:30 a. m. next morning.

Low rate of $3.50 will apply from Greensboro—these low rate tickets will be sold also from stations on the Wilkesboro, Mt. Airy, Sanford, Ramseur and Madison branches, being honored on regular trains up to Greensboro. Tickets returning will be good leaving Richmond on any of the regular trains up to and including Saturday, Sept. 17. One Standard Pullman sleeping car will be attached to this train at Greensboro and those desiring Pullman reservations should apply at once.

Train will also consist of nice day coaches with separate coaches for colored people. For further information concerning this grand outing, see Southern's nearest agent or address W. H. McGlammery, P. & T. A., Greensboro, N. C. R. H. Debutts, T. P. A., Charlotte, N. C.

The Flax Plant.

Linen is obtained from the flax plant, a small, delicate annual with a tiny blue flower. The plant is pulled by hand in the summer, the seeds, known in commerce as linseed, being removed and the straw subjected to various processes to separate the fibrous part which constitutes the linen. First it is steeped in water and then passed through a drying and heating process on revolving wheels until all foreign matter is removed. It is then ready for manufacture.

Not a Question of Etiquette.

Mrs. Hendricks (the landlady)—Can I help you to some more soup, Mr. Dumley?

Mr. Dumley—No, thanks.

Mrs. Hendricks (engagingly—Don't refuse, Mr. Dumley, because it isn't considered good form to be helped twice to soup. We're not particular people here.

Mr. Dumley—Oh, etiquette has nothing to do with it, madam; it's the soup.

She Learns, Too.

There had been a family row.

"Well," remarked the alleged head of the house, "a man learns a few things when he gets married. Yes, sir, a man lives and learns."

"That may be," retorted the feminine half of the sketch, "but the school of experience doesn't bar co-eds."—Washington Herald.

Overcharged.

Bell—Did I understand you to say that the dentist overcharged you? Nell—Yes: he gave me enough gas to inflate a balloon.—Kansas City Journal.

Not to Blame.

The Elderly Lady—They say his wife has money. The Younger—Well, that isn't his fault. They've only been married a short time.

Obedience is not truly performed by the body of him whose heart is dissatisfied.—Saadi.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Twenty knots an hour would be a pretty good record for a marrying parson.

There are few things in life more difficult than for a girl to look intellectual when she is chewing gum.

A girl may not really be able to love more than one man at a time, but she can make a mighty good bluff at it.

The New-York Life Insurance Company's assets January 1, 1910, were over $600,000,000.

Nearly one million people have funds in this 65-year old company. Have you?

It used to be said, "Strong as the Bank of England" now the comparison may properly be "Strong as the New-York Life."

The annual dividend policy of the New York Life Insurance Company is "free of conditions as to residence, travel or occupation," and incontestable after one year from its date. The policy constitutes the entire contract.

Mrs. N. C. Weatherly Will Do a Strictly Cash Business.

After September 15, Mrs. Weatherly will discontinue the credit business and sell strictly for cash on delivery. This step will be of mutual benefit, for it is evident, that if no money is put out for stationery, postage, collectors per cent and no lost accounts, she can sell goods much less than any house running on the credit system. Her goods will be marked for cash and sold for cash only. Mrs. Weatherly wishes to take the opportunity to thank the ladies for their liberal patronage and solicit a continuance of the same under the new cash system.

A NIGERIAN LEGEND.

It Tells of the Origin of Man's Subjection to Women.

There is a quaint old Nigerian legend that relates the origin of man's subjection to women.

At the beginning of things, the legend runs, the world was peopled by women only. One day the earth god, Awbassi Nai, happened by accident to kill a woman. On hearing this the rest gathered together and prayed that, if he meant to slay them, he would bring destruction on all together rather than kill them one by one.

Awbassi was sorry for the grief he had caused and offered as compensation to give them anything they should choose out of all his possessions. They begged him to mention what he had to give and said that they would all cry "Yes" when he named the thing they wished to have.

Awbassi mentioned one by one all his fruits, fowls and beasts, but at each they shouted "No." At length the list was nearly ended—only one thing remained to offer.

"Will you, then, take man?" asked Awbassi at last. "Yes!" they roared in a great shout, and, catching hold of one another, danced for joy at the thought of the gift Awbassi was sending.

Thus men became the servants of women and have to work for them to this day.

Don't Break Down.

Severe strains on the vital organs, like strains on machinery, cause breakdowns. You can't over-tax stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or run-down, or under strain of any kind, take Electric Bitters the matchless, tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. Van de Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., writes: "That I did not break down, while enduring a most severe strain, for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters." Use them and enjoy health and strength. Satisfaction positively guaranteed. 50c at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Have You Ever Said:

"I don't see how all the Magazines live?"—

Undoubtedly you have. Probably you have often stood before some news stand and wondered what magazines to buy. There are a lot of magazines. Most of them are mighty good and most of them live because they are good

But there's one magazine that not only lives but GROWS. There are fifteen or more good reasons for this in every issue. These reasons are its "unbeatable" features—the special articles obtained at enormous cost—the best fiction in the world—and its powerful, sincere editorial purpose.

The September number for example: Every feature is a big one. It is actually stuffed with big, vital news—information that you ought to have, articles that explain things, stories that every member of your family will read with intense delight. Here are some of the extra good things:

Splendid Fiction. Stories—fine ones—by Arthur Stringer Alice Brown, Mary Heaton Vorse, George Fitch and John Fleming Wilson.

"The Tooth Tinkers"—An account by Roy L. McCardell of "Painless Parkers" and their swindles.

"The Czar of Footwear"—Startling facts—all brand new—about the Shoe Machinery Trust, by Judson C. Welliver.

"In Reno Riotous"—A great story of the Johnson-Jeffries fight, by Harris Merton Lyon, filled with personality, crowded with local color, and illustrated just right.

The magazine that not only lives but grows is the magazine that is giving to the country "Peary's Own Story," a $50,000 feature; it is the magazine that is publishing the first English translation in America of M. Rostand's world famous drama "Chantecler." It is "the Best Magazine in America" and it is called Succeed when everything else fails. In nervous prostration and female weaknesses they are the supreme remedy, as thousands have testified.

FOR KIDNEY, LIVER AND STOMACH TROUBLE

it is the best medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter.

IN A BAD WAY.

Many a Greensboro Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information.

When your back gives out;
Becomes lame, weak or aching;
When urinary troubles set in.
Your kidneys are "in a bad way."
Here is good evidence to prove it.

Mrs. Delara Stubbins, S. Main street, Burlington, N. C., says: "About three years ago I began to snuffer from severe pains through the small of my back and across my limbs. My body bloated and the kidney secretions were unnatural. The doctor said I had symptoms of Bright's disease. I at length procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. In a short time they greatly relieved my suffering and I am now able to attend to my household duties. I gladly advise all sufferers of tidney complaint to give Doan's Kidney Pills a tsial."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name — Doan's — and take no other.

ELON COLLEGE NOTES.

Ante Opening Reception to Senior Class Monday Evening an Enjoyable Affair.

Elon College, Sept. 6.—Mr. H. P. Cline, Charlestown, W. Va., and his son, H. P. Cline, Jr., arrived on the Hill yesterday. Mr. Cline is visiting at Dr. Moffitt's home and his son will enter college as a regular student tomorrow.

Capt. and Mrs. W. J. Lee, of Norfolk, Va., and Mrs. Harry Trotman and children, of Churchland, Va., arrived at the college for an extended visit on the 11:30 train. Capt. Lee has been a trustee of the college since its foundation and is one of its most loyal friends. Mrs. Trotman is of the class of '99.

A delightful social event, the ante-opening reception extended the class of 1911 and a few invited guests was given in the dining hall of West Dormitory last evening. All members of the class were present except three and the evening was passed very pleasantly. The game of Progressive Hearts under the supervision and direction of Miss Martha Ann Watson, was played during the evening. The prize in this contest was a college pennant and was awarded to Miss Lizzie Rich, an invited guest. Mrs. Rose J. Machen, college preceptress, and Mrs. Florine Peace, college house-keeper, and Miss Annie Watson were the hostesses. The reception end with the impression in the minds of those present that the class of 1911 would be real leaders of college opinion during the year of their seniority.

Mr. Bunn Hearn, familiarly known in the baseball world as the Big twirler in the Eastern Carolina League, has accepted the position of athletic director for this present college year. He closes his workwith the Wilson team today and will arrive on the Hill this evening. He will be here for only a few days, having to leave to report to the St. Louis Nationals, which have bought him from the Wilson aggregation. He will return to the college Oct. 1st, and will enter actively upon his duties. Mr. Hearn was a student here last year and the chief pitcher on the college team.

A Reliable Medicine—NOT A NARCOTIC

Mrs. F. Marti, St. Joe, Mich., says Foley's Honey and Tar saved her little boy's life. She writes: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and as the doctor's medicine did not cure him, I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar in which I have great faith. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells, and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar has many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house." Holton Drug Co.

A Compromise.

"Sir," began Lord Broke leigh, pompously, "I've called to request your daughter's hand in marriage."

"That's out of the question, my man," replied old Roxley. "However, I don't want to seem altogether uncharitable, so here's $5 for you."—Catholic Standard and Times.

AN ASTOR DEAL.

The Only Time That Old John Jacob Sold Real Estate.

"One of the most stringent real estate rules of the Astor family is 'never sell,' and only one sale is recorded in the entire life of old John Jacob Astor," said Niles F. Watkins, a real estate broker of New York. "In 1830 Astor tore down his house in Broadway, cleared the whole block from Vesey to Barclay street and built the huge Quincy granite hotel known as the Astor House, which was one of the first notable landmarks in New York and also one of the best paying pieces of property.

"A few days after it was finished the old gentleman and his eldest son, William, were walking through City Hall park, where the postoffice now stands, and stopped a moment to admire the building, the finest hotel in America at that time.

"'Pop, that's a mighty fine building,' said William. 'I wish to gracious it was mine.'

"'So?' answered the father. 'Well, Billy, give me $1 and you can have it.'

"Out came the dollar—a big silver dollar that is cherished by the family to this day—and within an hour the deed of the property was made out and recorded. This was old Mr. Astor's only sale of real estate in his life."—Washington Herald.

It Saved His Leg.

"I thought I'd lose my leg," writes J. A. Swensen, of Watertown, Wis. "Ten years of eczema, that 15 doctors could not cure, had at last laid me up. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured it, sound and well." Infallible for Skin Eruptions, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Boils, Fever Sores, Burns, Scalds, Cuts and Piles. 25c at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Feminine Promptness.

"What are you in such a rush about?"

"Promised to meet my wife at 3 o'clock down at the corner."

"Well, there's no hurry. It isn't 4 yet."—Cleveland Leader.

Your kidney trouble may be of long standing, it may be either acute or chronic, but whatever it is Foley's Kidney Remedy will aid you to get rid of it quickly and restore your natural health and vigor. "One bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy made me well," said J. Sibbull, of Grand View, Wis. Commence taking it now." Holton Drug Co.

"It Looks Just Like NEW"

This was the expression of a lady when she called to get a brooch that she had left here for a new pin.

The brooch was polished and refinished.

The new pin was properly fitted and, as she said, it was really new again, and the charge was 15 cents.

How many old pieces of old jewelry have you got lying around that a few cents would make as good as new and put into service again?

SHREWD VICTOR HUGO.

Quiet Way In Which He Bullied the Theatrical Managers.

Here are the methods which Dumas the elder and Victor Hugo employed when they had a new play to offer to the theater. Dumas would write to the director of the Porte St. Martin:

My Dear Friend—I shall bring you on Monday a play in five acts. I shall need Mlle. Georges, Mme. Dorval, Bocage, Lockroy, Provost and five new scenes.

This extravagance would alarm the director, who would put off the production of the play till better days.

Then Victor Hugo would appear and shyly draw a manuscript out of his pocket. He would agree to everything. The stock company would play his piece admirably, since all he wanted was a good ensemble; no new decorations would be needed nor any change at all.

So the piece would be read, and as the roles were distributed Hugo would say musingly, "Dieu, how fine Frederick would be in that part!" "That is true," Horel would murmur, and a few days after he would announce that Frederick was engaged. Hugo would then remonstrate that this destroyed the equipoise of the cast, and Raucourt, Laferriere and Mlle. Georges would be engaged. Then Hugo would attack the stage setting. Old scenes that the public had tired of were almost an insult to these great artists. If Horel showed reluctance at this, Hugo would threaten to withdraw his piece. And so the game would go on till, little by little, Hugo had obtained everything he wanted, even to the changing of the paper hangings in the stage boxes.
